Local Offer

Local Offer description

We are committed to the equal inclusion of all pupils in all areas of primary school life. We recognise the diverse and individual needs of all pupils and take into account the additional support required by those children with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND).

We have a range of support staff deployed according to pupil need, and deliver a range of interventions, including those to support development in speaking, maths, reading and writing, as well as therapies such as counselling, drawing and talking, therapeutic storywriting.

We have links to a wide range of support agencies and have service level agreements to support with SEMH and Movement Difficulties.

We are proud of our achievements, including awards for Anti-Bullying, Investors in Children, Educate and Celebrate, Fair Trade, Rights Respecting Schools, International Award and Carer's Charter.

How do you identify Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND)?

How does the setting/school/college know if children/young people need extra help and what should I do if I think my child/young person may have special educational needs?

The school monitors and assesses the progress of all pupils on an ongoing basis. If staff feel a child is struggling they will speak to parents as soon as issues are identified. If parents have any concerns they are encouraged to inform the school as soon as possible and we will work with parents to ensure necessary support is made available and any specialist advice is sought, if required.

How will you support my child with their special educational needs and disability?

How will early years setting/school/college staff support my child/young person?

Support is given in a range of ways, including:

- teachers developing additional resources of a different approach for pupils who may need more help
- additional interventions planned and delivered
- additional adult support
- advice from specialist services, where required.
- pupil specific programmes

How will you make sure my child's education meet their needs?

How will the curriculum be matched to my child's young person's needs?

The curriculum is matched to the needs of all children in school, and activities are developed to support and challenge all learners, differentiated according to need. If additional resources are needed that may help pupils learn these are also made available. Advice is also taken from specialist support agencies on what may help a child access the curriculum and support their learning.

How will we know my child is progressing?

How will both you and I know how my child/young person is doing and how will you help me to support my child's/young person's learning?

School works alongside parents to set targets for pupils and to regularly review progress. As well as ongoing parent meetings, parents have the opportunity to meet informally each day and teachers strive to ensure parents are informed as soon as possible of concerns.

Parents of children with identified SEND will also have the opportunity for more formal reviews.

We will offer support to parents through information and activities and resources pupils may use/need, and by referral to specialist agencies for specific support needed.

How will you support my child's overall wellbeing?

What support will there be for my child's/young person's overall wellbeing?

Carefully planned curriculum activities cover a range of health and wellbeing issues such as developing healthy lifestyles, safety, anti-bullying initiatives, etc.

Additional support is also offered to families through links to a range of agencies.

School also has staff trained in counselling and therapies.

There are wide opportunities for extra-curricular learning, including sport. Children attend residential and day trips to enhance the curriculum and develop wellbeing.

What specialist services and expertise is available at or accessed by the staff?

What specialist services and expertise are available at or accessed by the setting/school/college?

What activities outside the classroom will there be?

How will my child/young person be included in activities outside this classroom including school trips?

All children have access to activities provided. Additional support will be offered if required, to ensure equal opportunities are available for all pupils.

How will you support my child's needs?

How accessible is the setting/school/college environment?

- Disabled parking available
- Wheelchair access
- Disabled toilet
- Ramps in doorways

My child is going to be starting or leaving soon, how will you help them?

How will the setting/school/college prepare and support my child/young person to join the setting/school/college or the next stage of education and life?

We have close links with transition workers at a feeder comprehensive school, who work with children all year long before transition.

We will liaise closely with key members of staff at nursery and secondary schools and ensure they attend any reviews of provision arrangements.

What is available to help my child with their education?

How are the setting's/school's/college's resources allocated and matched to children's/young people's special educational needs?

Costed provision maps are developed to support children with identified needs.

Funding is allocated to general support and where required, to specific support needs and is regularly reviewed and changed where required

Sometimes support is allocated for a short time, and on other occasions longer term support is required

What support can I expect for my child?

How is the decision made about what type and how much support my child/young person will receive?

This is made in full consultation with parents and carers, and with educational specialist advice taken into account.

How will I be involved in my child's education?

How are parents involved in the setting/school/college? How can I be involved?

Parents are involved in setting of targets for support plans, and in review of progress. We hold regular meetings with parents and operate an open door policy.

We also have Friends of the School (PTA) if parents would like to be involved in this.

We hold regular meetings with parents, and a number of events, socially and through Family Learning.
